Professional background

Professional background relevant to GEOSNet:

<Dr. Feng has done a lot of work about geotechnical safety since he was a Ph.D. candidate. His research areas include soft ground, slopes, landfills, tailing dams, contaminated sites and high speed rail. He has contributed more than 70 SCI papers, and is the editorial board member of Georisk and the reviewer for many journals such as Computers and Geotechnics, Engineering Geology, Georisk, ASCE's Journal of Geotechnical and Geoenvironmental Engineering, Waste Management. He worked as PI on 8 projects supported by the National Natural Science Foundation of China (NSFC) including the National Science Fund for Distinguished Young Scholars of China, the Newton Advanced Fellowship, and more than 10 provincial and ministerial projects. Recently, he was rewarded the Science & Technology Award for Chinese Youth.>

Main reasons for your interest in GEOSNet and potential contributions to the network:

<Geotechnical safety is one of the major concerns in geotechnical engineering. GEOSNet is an collaborative and leading platform in this area. My research areas are highly related to GEOSNet. It is a great chance to join GEOSNet, and collaborate with the distinguished scholars. I am happy to do the voluntary work including but not limited to organizing conferences, reviewing papers and writing bulletins.>
